

Monday, April 10

Presentations and Roundtable
*U.S. Central Americans:
Reconstructing Memories,
Struggles, and Communities of Resistance*

3:30 – 5 PM in the Chicano
Studies Research Center Library
(144 Haines Hall)

RECEPTION WILL FOLLOW

This book captures the rich and dynamic cultures, stories, and historical memories of Central American communities in the United States. Contributors to this anthology—often writing from their own experiences as members of this community—articulate US Central Americans’ unique identities and offer witness to the struggles of displacement, travel, navigation, and settlement of new terrain.

Presentations and Roundtable Discussions Feature:

Karina Oliva Alvarado, UCLA

Alicia Ivonne Estrada, CSUN

Ester E. Hernández, CSULA

Yajaira Padilla, University of Arkansas,
Fayetteville

Leisy Abrego, UCLA

