UCLA Chicano Studies Research Center Event Announcement

“Borders and Immigration: Then and Now—A Roundtable”

Carlos Bueno and Antonio Ibanez, “Alma de mis novias de pueblo para el barrio su nombre es Maria de Los Angeles.” Nancy Tovar Murals of East L.A. Collection, CSRC

Thursday, May 17, 2018

3:00 – 5:00 p.m.

CSRC Library - 144 Haines Hall

This panel will examine policies, legacies, and discourses related to borders and immigration, considering them in historical as well as current US contexts. Panelists will discuss the criminalization of unsanctioned action and consider prevailing discourses in terms of gender, sexuality, and medicine. The panelists are Francisco J. Galarte, assistant professor of gender and women's studies at University of Arizona; Armando García, assistant professor of English at University of California, Riverside; Bernadine Hernández, assistant professor of American literary studies at University of New Mexico and 2017-18 UCLA Institute of American Cultures Visiting Scholar at the CSRC; Chris Perreira, assistant professor of American studies and Latina/o studies at the University of Kansas and 2017-18 Ford Postdoctoral Fellow at the CSRC; and Yosimar Reyes, poet, educator, and performance artist.

A reception will follow the discussion.

This event is organized by the CSRC and co-sponsored by the UCLA Humanities Division, the UCLA Institute of American Cultures, the UCLA Latin American Institute, the UCLA Institute for Research on Labor and Employment, the César E. Chávez Department for Chicana and Chicano Studies, and the Department of English.
