

Eternos Indocumentados:

Central American Refugees in the United States

Directed/Produced by Jennifer A. Cárcamo

Based on interviews with recently arrived Central Americans and organizers leading the struggle on the ground in Central America and the U.S., this film captures the stories of refugees and uncovers the root causes of forced migration as well as migrant incarceration. In the words of revolutionary, Salvadoran poet, Roque Dalton, this film captures the lives of los Eternos Indocumentados (the Eternally Undocumented).

Film Screening and Q&A with Director
Wednesday, January 30, 2019 | 6:30-8:30pm
UCLA - Kaufman Hall Theater 208
120 Westwood Plaza,
Los Angeles, CA 90095

Website: <http://eternosindocumentados.com/>

Twitter/IG: @eternos_indocu | FB: @eternosindocumentados