

The Race and Ethnicity Working Group in Sociology is pleased to host:

David Theo Goldberg Professor
UC Irvine

"Dread and the Politics of our Time"
Wednesday, February 14th
3-4:30pm, Haines 144

David Theo Goldberg, Ph.D., is the Director of the University of California Humanities Research Institute, the University of California system-wide research facility for the human sciences and theoretical research in the arts. He also holds faculty appointments as Professor of Comparative Literature, Anthropology, and Criminology, Law and Society at UC Irvine, and is a Fellow of the UCI Critical Theory Institute.

Professor Goldberg's work ranges over issues of political theory, race and racism, ethics, law and society, critical theory, cultural studies and, increasingly, digital humanities.

He has authored numerous books, including Are we all postracial yet? (2015); The Threat of Race (2008); The Racial State (2002); Racial Subjects: Writing on Race in America (1997).

The event is part of the Irene Flecknoe Ross Lecture Series and is made possible by a gift from Ray Ross in memory of his wife.

The event is also cosponsored by the Chicano Studies Research Center.
