

WAR IN VIETNAM
NOW!

THE POWER

IMMIGRANTS

a panel of alumni, sponsored by Asian American Studies Dept, Asian American Studies Center, Center for Southeast Asian Studies, and Chicano Studies Research Center

U.S.A

100 YEARS OF PROTESTS AT UCLA

TIME: 12 PM

DATE: WEDNESDAY,
NOVEMBER 14

VENUE: CHICANO
STUDIES RESEARCH CENTER LIBRARY

the Re/Enactments program. Recipient of the 2018 Arts Initiative "Campus as Canvas," by the the School of the Arts and ert School of Music, the School of Theater, Film, and Television and the Humanities Division. It also received a grant from and Inclusion, and was awarded discretionary funds from the Dean of Humanities Office and the Office of the Dean of S Asian Languages and Cultures, Residential Life Arts Engagement Network, Asia Pacific Center, Center for Southeast Asi
n Studies Center, International Institute, Chicano Studies Research Center, Center for International Migration Studies, U am Office, Community Programs Office, Department of Comparative Literature, Asian American Studies Graduate Stud ent Union, World Arts and Cultures Department, Asian American Studies Department, and UCLA Filipinx Studies. Additio the University of California Critical Refugee Studies Collective.